Freddy,

We are now past the 180 day mark that you promised all our items would be completed by. Matter of FACT, looking at the list, you did not complete one single item on the list. That's a perfect score, perfect zero that is! You promised all of them would be completed. So, what does that say????? We believed you, but it's very obvious now that you were NOT telling the truth. You outright lied to us and deceived us. It's very sad that there are people like you in this world. With morals like that one would think your family and friends are very ashamed of you. And they have a right to be. We wonder how you can even live with yourself????? Also we even wonder how you're even able to sleep at night. You told us you were Jewish, but maybe that's a lie too, we wonder if your character is a true representative of the Jewish faith, in the past we never know that, it's sad if it is.
